

CONSUMER LEASING

OVERVIEW

Federal Reserve Board (FRB) Regulation M requires meaningful disclosures of the terms of leases of personal property for personal, family, or household purposes. It limits balloon payments in consumer leasing, enables comparison of lease terms with credit terms where applicable, and assures meaningful and accurate disclosures of leased terms in advertisements.

Examination Objective(s)

The objectives for the examination are to determine:

- Whether the financial institution is a lessor and therefore, subject to Regulation M
- Whether the financial institution's policies and practices are in compliance with Regulation M

DEFINITION(S)
(cont'd)

Residual Value

The value of the leased property at the end of the lease term, as estimated or assigned at consummation by the lessor, used in calculating the base periodic payment.

EXAMINATION
PROCEDURES

Evaluate for Compliance with Regulation M
1.	Review the Compliance Information Request (CIR) to determine if the financial institution has made or purchased consumer leases since the last examination.
2.	Review forms used in granting consumer leases.
3.	Determine that disclosures were furnished to customers before consummation of the lease. 213.3(a)(3)
Disclosures
4.	Determine that lease disclosures include, as applicable: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A description of the property (213.4(a)) • The amount of any payment to be paid prior to or at consummation, or by delivery, if delivery occurs after consummation (213.4(b)) • Payment schedule and total amount of periodic payments (213.4(c)) • Charges not included in the periodic payments, such as any liability imposed at the end of the lease term (213.4(d)) • Total of payments (213.4(e)) • The method of payment calculation including the following, as applicable: Gross capitalized cost, Capital cost reduction, Adjusted capitalized cost, Residual Value, Depreciation and any amortized amounts, Rent charge, Total of base periodic payments, Lease term, Base periodic payment, Itemization of other charges, and total periodic payments (213.4(f)) • The conditions and disclosure of early termination charges and the required notice thereof (213.4(g)) • Maintenance responsibilities (213.4(h)) • Availability and conditions of any purchase options (213.4(i)) • A statement referencing nonsegregated disclosures (213.4(j)) • Lessee's liability, if any, for the difference between the residual and realized value of the leased property (213.4(k)) • A statement that the lessee may obtain, at lessee's expense, a professional appraisal by an independent third party agreed to by the lessee and the lessor of the value that could be realized at the sale of the leased property. This should be done when the lessee's liability at early termination or at the end of the lease term is based on the realized value

- Non-motor vehicle open-end leases remain subject to section 182(10) of the act regarding end of term liability (213.4(t))

Refer to Appendix A of Regulation M for model disclosure forms.

Renegotiations, Extensions, and Assumptions

Definitions:

- A renegotiation occurs when a consumer lease is satisfied and replaced by a new lease. A renegotiation requires new disclosures, except as described below. (213.5(a))
- An extension is a continuation, agreed to by the lessor and the lessee, of an existing consumer lease beyond the originally scheduled end of the lease terms, except when the continuation is the result of the renegotiation. An extension that exceeds six months requires new disclosures, except as described below. (213.5(b))
- An assumption occurs when a consumer lease is assumed by another person, whether or not the lessor charges an assumption fee.

NOTE: New disclosures are not required when a consumer lease is assumed by another person, whether or not the lessor charges an assumption fee.

5. If transactions qualify as renegotiations or extensions, determine that disclosures were furnished to consumers, as applicable. (213.5)

New disclosures are not required for the following, even if they meet the definition of a renegotiation or an extension:

- A reduction in the rent charge;

- The deferment of one or more payments, whether or not a fee is charged;
- The extension of a lease for not more than six months on a month-to-month basis or otherwise;
- A substitution of leased property with property that has a substantially equivalent or greater economic value, provided no other lease terms are changed;
- The addition, deletion, or substitution of leased property in a multiple-item lease, provided the average periodic payment does not change by more than 25 percent; or
- An agreement resulting from a court proceeding.

WORKPAPER STANDARDS
